

Nicholas Place

Front-End Web Developer | linkedin.com/in/enPlace | github.com/enPlace | n.place@protonmail.com | Asheville, NC

SKILLS

Languages: JavaScript, Python, HTML, CSS, JSX
Technologies: React, Redux, Jest, Webpack, Express, Git, Node.js, Heroku
Other: Spanish--fluent

PROJECTS

Battleship Game with Computer Opponent | React.js, Styled Components, Jest

GitHub

- Designed and optimized a computer opponent algorithm based on Battleship game theory
- Implemented tests for the game's factory functions and computer opponent algorithm with Jest
- Troubleshoot opponent algorithm and implemented a stack to deal with any orientation of connected ships

Weather App | Webpack, ES6 Modules, Asynchronous JS

GitHub

- Generated HTML content with JavaScript and compiled JavaScript modules with Webpack
- Made use of the Google Places API for an autocomplete search bar, Google's Geocoding API to convert location info to geographic coordinates, and Openweathermap's One Call API for comprehensive weather forecast information
- Followed mobile-first design principles to create a responsive site optimized for mobile use

Bookshelf App | Firebase, React.js, Jest, Asynchronous JS

GitHub

- Created a personal library app and set up CRUD operations with firebase
- Used the Google Books API to fetch book information and images to add to the user's book display

Shopping Cart | React.js, Redux.js, React Router

GitHub

- Built a single-page web application with navigation using React Router
- Managed state using the Redux library
- Designed and organized the store using ducks file architecture

WORK EXPERIENCE

Law School Admissions Test Instructor

7Sage.com/Self

September 2020–Present

- Contributed to launching the tutoring program for 7sage, one of the web's biggest sites for LSAT prep
- As an instructor who received a score higher than 99.64% of test takers, I helped students increase their LSAT scores by up to 15 points and helped many students enter the 90th percentile

English/ESL Online Tutoring Business Owner

April 2017–Present

- Provided customized English lessons to primary and secondary school students through an online platform.
- Received over 5,000 manually submitted five-star reviews
- 99.9% positive feedback rate on over 8,000 classes taught

EDUCATION

Middle Tennessee State University

May 2016

Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy

Murfreesboro, TN

- Served as the sole tutor for the department and assisted students with understanding formal logic

INTERESTS

- Avid traveller, long-distance runner and mountain hiker.
- Lived in South America for four years, where I met my wife (and dog)